

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

The appearance of Mr. John H. Powell, who gave a piano recital at Woman's Club yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, was hailed with delight by a large and enthusiastic audience.

The parlors of the club were decorated with roses and palms, and were crowded with representative society people, the pretty summer gowns of the ladies and the white frocks of the young girls contrasting charmingly with their ribbon sashes and picture hats, rendering the scene a beautiful and brilliant one.

Mr. Powell, who looks extremely well after his summer in the Virginia mountains, was greeted with very sincere applause when he entered the room. He opened his recital with a sonata in D sharp minor by Schuman. A Chopin group came next, and then Florent Schmitt's "Funeral March," Leon Moreau's "Chanson Danseuse," and Gounod-Liszt's "Faust Fantasy."

To criticize Mr. Powell's performance in detail would be a superfluous task. His exquisite skill, his personal magnetism and his perfect purity of expression were never more apparent and never more fully recognized, expressions of admiration and delight following each rendition, the club hospitality having been stretched to the utmost to gratify the many who were most anxious to have an opportunity to hear Richmond's talented young musician.

The reception after the recital took both of the nature of an ovation and a farewell. Mr. Powell leaves for New York Saturday, and sails almost immediately to fulfill engagements in London.

General and Mrs. William Ruffin Cox were in the audience. Mrs. Cox was very handsome in a pompadour crepe de chine Directoire gown, trimmed with lovely lace and worn with a ruby necklace and a rose-trimmed hat.

The coffee and lemonade tables were presided over by Mrs. S. W. Travers, Mrs. J. Allison Hodges and Mrs. Catesby Jones.

Among Mr. Powell's friends and special guests were Mrs. Smith Brockenbrough, Mrs. Shirley Carter, Mrs. Henry Houston, Miss Emily Houston, Mrs. Conway Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Conner, Mrs. Blair Burwell, Mrs. Murray McGuire, Miss Frances Elyson, Miss Virginia Bouldin, Miss Amy Werth, Miss Bell Johnson, Miss Derby, Mrs. McCance and Mr. Fayette Ball.

The church will be decorated in palms and flowers. The bride will be attended by her sister, Mrs. Stanley Kratz, as matron of honor. The best man will be Mr. Edward Kuhn, brother of the bride, and the only other attendants will be Mr. Stanley Kratz and Mr. George Newsome.

HAS NOVEL SCHEME
FOR DASH TO POLE

EXPLORER E. B. BALDWIN.

Explorer Baldwin Outlines Plan to Make Ice-Floes Carry Supplies and Provisions.

NEW YORK, September 14.—What is pronounced by experts to be the best plan for polar research is the novel one proposed by Evelyn Briggs Baldwin.

"I am soon to lay this plan in detail before the Harvard Union at Cambridge," said the explorer to-day, "but I'll tell you this much now."

"Give me a cargo of logs, another of casks partly filled with emergency supplies and a single vessel specially constructed and we can go from Behring's Strait to the Pole and right across the Arctic Ocean. Scatter the logs, portable houses, casks, etc., upon a group of heavy ice floes surrounding the ship, shifting the supplies if necessary by means of windlasses, motors or dogs, and we'll succeed. A single crew can manage the three cargoes.

"If the Jeanette expedition adopted this plan it would have won. In my support Rear-Admiral Melville stated to me that a small house erected on the ice at the beginning of the drift of the Jeanette having been blown away before it had been fastened down, was found two years later less than two miles from the ship, thus proving that the ship and ice proceed just as a balloon moves with the atmosphere in which it floats.

"With portable studios and laboratories our artists and scientists may work in tranquillity. With balloons we will view a wide belt of territory, and, as did the Baldwin-Ziegler expedition frequently, dispatch messages home-ward. With our logs as fuel, we'll barbecue the walrus, seal and polar bear. With the casks as emptied we'll form a flotilla filled with duplicates of our collections.

"'Good scheme,' said Admiral Schley the other day."

AN ERROR CORRECTED.
Through error one of the paragraphs in the advertisement of the well known furniture house of Chas. G. Jurgens' Sons yesterday read:

"A chair at $20, a rocker at $20, and a settee at $40 are pieces made up in very plain solid mahogany frames and upholstered in best quality leather without tufting. These pieces will help to make up an extremely neat living room or library."

"A rocker at $20 and a settee at $25, etc."

As the error was so plain, however, it is hardly possible that any failed to detect it.
